WOMAN RIDE VICTIM DYING G. B. FREDENBERG RITES SET FOR MONDAY

'ROUND 'N' 'ROUND

Speaking of Isaac Waltons, some of the men at the Standard Oil plant would make old Isaac roll over in his grave with envy.

It seems, so reports state, that when the men in some departments are finished working they sit down and talk fishing for half an hour.

And when one returns from his day off with the tale of huge fish caught, congratulations are passed around.

But when the aforesaid fisher returns without any fish, he is given what Damon Runyan calls the Bronx viva.

This fishing bug is even worse than the well known golf bug.

Hundreds of wives are made widows each year by the rolling greens, the bunkers, the fairways, and "that perfect putt at the eighteenth green."

And still more wives are made widows by the red, the reel, the line and "that big beauty that got away from me."

Some of these car drivers aren't happy unless they are lifting up the hoods of their machines and poking inquisitive fingers into the gears.

And some won't be happy unless they are taking the car apart just to see what makes the wheels go 'round.

And then there are the amateur mechanics who think they know more about putting a car together than the man who invented the machine.

And then there are the pests who play baseball in the street and slam the ball thru a plate glass window in a machine.

And then forget to see the owner of the car about paying for the damages.

Richmond can take heart from the cheery message given to the RECORD-HERALD by E. Dinklespiel, director of the census, that the population of this city is past the 20,000 mark.

But wait until 1940.

By that time, this city should have had a huge increase in population.

Woman, 71 Wins Golf Prize

FORT WORTH, Tex., May 24.—UP—Mrs. C. Stripling Sr., 71 years old, captured the championship of the consolation division in the nine hole flight of the Fort Worth women's golf championship tournament here today, defeating her opponent, 3 and 1.

Mrs. Stripling played an easy, accurate game, always in the middle of the fairway, to score a string of sixes and sevens and take down the honors.

She is believed to be the oldest active woman tournament player in the world.

Flier Given Jail Sentence

MARTINEZ, May 24.—George Duarte an aviator whose insistent efforts to see his 15 year old sweetheart were climaxed with a free for all fight, was today sentenced to serve 30 days in the county jail on a charge of disturbing the peace.

The charges were preferred by the father of the girl, who alleged that Duarte came to his house at a late hour, and when refused, started a fight.

LOCAL YOUTH WINS TITLE IN PLAY

James Hurley, 16 year old Richmond boy, won the North Coast tennis championship of the California Inter-scholastic Federation yesterday in the C. I. F. finals at San Mateo.

Hurley gained the state title by defeating Santa Marina of San Mateo 6-0 and 11-9. In the semi-finals that preceded the final match yesterday, the local boy gained a 9-7, 6-3 victory over the contestant from Santa Cruz. The San Mateo athlete earned the right to oppose Hurley by conquering Danville 6-0, 6-0.

The Richmond tennis prodigy easily captured the title of the Alameda County Athletic league in Berkeley two weeks ago, thereby winning the right to be its representative in the North Coast finals yesterday.

The Alameda County Athletic league now possesses all state tennis honors, for Alameda high school, its representative in the doubles finals at San Mateo, also won the North Coast tennis doubles championship. It defeated Burlingame 6-3, 6-4 yesterday, after defeating Santa Cruz 6-2, 6-3 in the semi-finals.

By winning yesterday's tournament, James Hurley became recognized as one of the foremost high school tennis stars of the state. His speed and knowledge of the fine points of tennis have placed him in the front rank in the local tennis tournaments for the past few years. He has been playing excellent tennis ever since he entered junior high school four years ago, when he soon attracted the attention of Richmond and Contra Costa county tennis enthusiasts.

He is now a junior student at Richmond Union high school, and is the outstanding player on the high school tennis team.

This year's tennis team at Richmond Union high school is probably the most successful in the history of tennis at the school. Besides Hurley, it contains such players of local note as Melvin Avilla, Phil Carlin, Darrow Sutton and Adrian Newman. The Richmond boys are being coached this year by Clifford Fallon, former Richmond Union high school tennis athlete. The local team won the tennis championship of the Alameda County Athletic league, and has yet to suffer its first defeat of the season.

Judging by this year's achievements, Hurley and his team mates, Richmond holds one of the most prominent positions in California tennis competition.

Death Ends Long Career

MISSING CAR, BRIDE HOAX CONFESSED

TURTLE CREEK, Pa., May 25.—UP—G. C. Kirk, 24, who told East McKeesport police his wife had disappeared in an abandoned car on the Lincoln highway near here and claimed that he was the son of G. Kirk head of the Carnation Farm, Carnation Wash., was arrested last night and admitted the whole thing was a hoax, police said.

Kirk was arrested on a suspicious person charge shortly before midnight. His arrest came when Warren O., police claimed he resembled a man wanted there for passing bad checks.

According to police the prisoner said he had never married and was not the son of the Washington man. He planned the hoax as an easy way to establish his identification to forge checks. He is wanted elsewhere on similar charges.

"My automobile broke down about a half mile outside of the town," Kirk said.

"I couldn't get it started again. I think the differential was broken. I decided to leave the car and walk into town for a towing truck."

"I met Samuel Wolfe, Jr., (an undertaker of East McKeesport), and he offered to tow me and to keep my wife overnight while the repairs were being made." (Continued on Page 8)

INDIAN REBELS PLAN RAID ON BRITISH SALT WORKS TODAY

BOMBAY, May 24.—UP—A pro-independence volunteers in observation and demonstration by incitement of the Dharasana days paralyzed a large section of the city late today as a preliminary to a secretly planned mass attack tomorrow on the Wadala salt work plant.

The raid will be the greatest yet made at the works near Bombay. Congress leaders said after a two hour meeting of the war council. Despite the government police precautions to halt the raid in the Wadala district, where 600 volunteers already have been arrested, the independence leaders were confident of wide support for their plans.

In addition to a partial halt in Bombay which added employees of railroad work shops and mills to the ranks of the demonstrators the confidence of the leaders was increased by indications that Moslem leaders would take a leading part in the independence movement henceforth. Although many Moslems have charged the success of the movement would be detrimental to them because of the dominance of Hindus, it was arranged for 40 Moslems to lead the Wadala raid.

Court Fight In P. A. Vote

PHILADELPHIA, May 24.—UP—The question as to whom is the Republican gubernatorial nominee from Pennsylvania may ultimately be determined by the state supreme court, it was indicated here tonight.

On the basis of early complete returns from the state Clifford Pinchot won the nomination from Francis B. Bryan, candidate of a Philadelphia organization by a margin of at least 17,000 votes. It appeared likely tonight that the Brown forces will take the Luzerne county situation to the supreme court for a ruling whether perforation of numbers on ballots there constitutes "mutilation."

State Ousts Traffic Chief

SACRAMENTO, May 24.—UP—Captain Clyde Randle of the Humboldt county traffic squad today was discharged from the state employ for "general inefficiency," and for the good of the service.

The announcement was made by Eugene W. Biscailuz, superintendent of the California highway patrol, who said that District Inspector Walter Greer was on his way to Eureka today to take away Randle's badge, his motorcycle and any other state property in his possession.

Randle has been a traffic officer since 1924, the division of motor vehicles reported. For several weeks Inspector Greer has been in Humboldt county checking with the district attorney, sheriff, newspapers and leading citizens as to Randle's activities. Upon his return, Greer recommended the action taken today.

Heat Wave In East Ends With Cool Weather

NEW YORK, May 24.—UP—Cool weather settled over the eastern seaboard today, bringing temporary relief from a heat wave which sent thousands to beach resorts and caused 46 children to collapse in a school pageant at Kearny, N. J.

New York city and vicinity experienced its hottest weather of the year yesterday when the mercury climbed to 89, accompanied by uncomfortable humidity.

SLAYERS SINGS AS CHARGES MADE

SAN RAFAEL, May 24.—A one-legged gunman sang and whistled in the county jail here today while he was being formally charged with the murder of the government's star witness, and while a second victim of his revolver was dying in a Petaluma hospital.

Vincent Lucich is the accused killer, who took Melville Sturtevant "for a ride" at Tomales Bay. Mrs. Grace Berri, with blood poisoning setting in from a bullet wound in her shoulder, is the other victim. The murdered man was the federal government's star witness in the "Clint" Mason still cases, whom the accused killer said had "squealed" on him.

With his alleged paramour, Grace Berri, wife of a Marin county politician, and accused big scale bootlegger, Sturtevant played a fast and reckless game of espionage against Berri and his partners.

Besides poisoning her in alleged liaisons which finally locked him in jail on statutory charges, Sturtevant turned pigeon, and was the star government witness in the trial of Berri and nine others.

Man Killed

So, last Wednesday night, in some tangle of circumstances that may never be known to authorities, Sturtevant, the squalor, Mrs. Berri called his sweetheart, and "Vince" Lucich, also accused of having been once intimate with the pretty woman, rode to "the spot"—a desolate stretch of beach on Tomales Bay. There, under circumstances equally obscure, Sturtevant went to his death, and Mrs. Berri was shot through the breast. She may recover at a Petaluma hospital.

Out of the hodgepodge of many theories, many in conflict, yet each seemingly borne out by evidence — authorities are only convinced of one thing: "Vince" and the woman, the only known witnesses, are lying.

They ask "where are Vincent's bruises if he was struck across the face with the butt end of (Continued on page 2)

NAVY FLIERS SEE BAY AREA

SAN FRANCISCO, May 24.—UP—After successful completion of the longest cross-country flight today by a naval reserve flight squadron, nine members of the 13th Reserve Division were "flight-seeing" in the San Francisco area.

The naval reserve fliers took off late Thursday from their base at Sand Point, Seattle. They arrived here yesterday after an overnight stop at Eugene, Oregon.

Flying time for the hop was 10 hours.

Lieutenant H. A. Beswick, commander of the expedition, will tomorrow lead the eight other Reserve fliers on an aerial tour of the San Francisco bay area, paying brief calls at various local airports.

The flight was occasioned by the requirement of the Navy department that reserve corps fliers, in order to retain their rating and flying status, must report for two weeks active duty each year.

Among the aviators who made the hop was Lieut. John Blum, well known Pacific coast airman, and president of the Northwest Air Service.

The planes used by the Naval aviators in the flight are Cuttiss Pedglines and Consolidated trainers. The return flight to the Sand Point base will be started Monday.

STOCKTON FETE TO ATTRACT LOCALS

Richmond is well represented at the three-day water carnival being held at Stockton this week-end under the auspices of the Stockton chamber of commerce.

The Richmond boating enthusiasts who are attending the Stockton races are Dr. Francis Kent, George Dreyerling, C. E. Marshall, George B. Lauritzen, William Remell and Ernest Moe.

Kent recently gained first honors in a 25 mile runabout event race at Stockton in his Lur A-ysee III.

The program for this week-end's carnival includes a swimmer race, a 12 1/2 mile commercial speedboat race, a 20 mile runabout race, 12 five-mile hydroplane events, an electrically decorated boat display, a pageant, and dance.

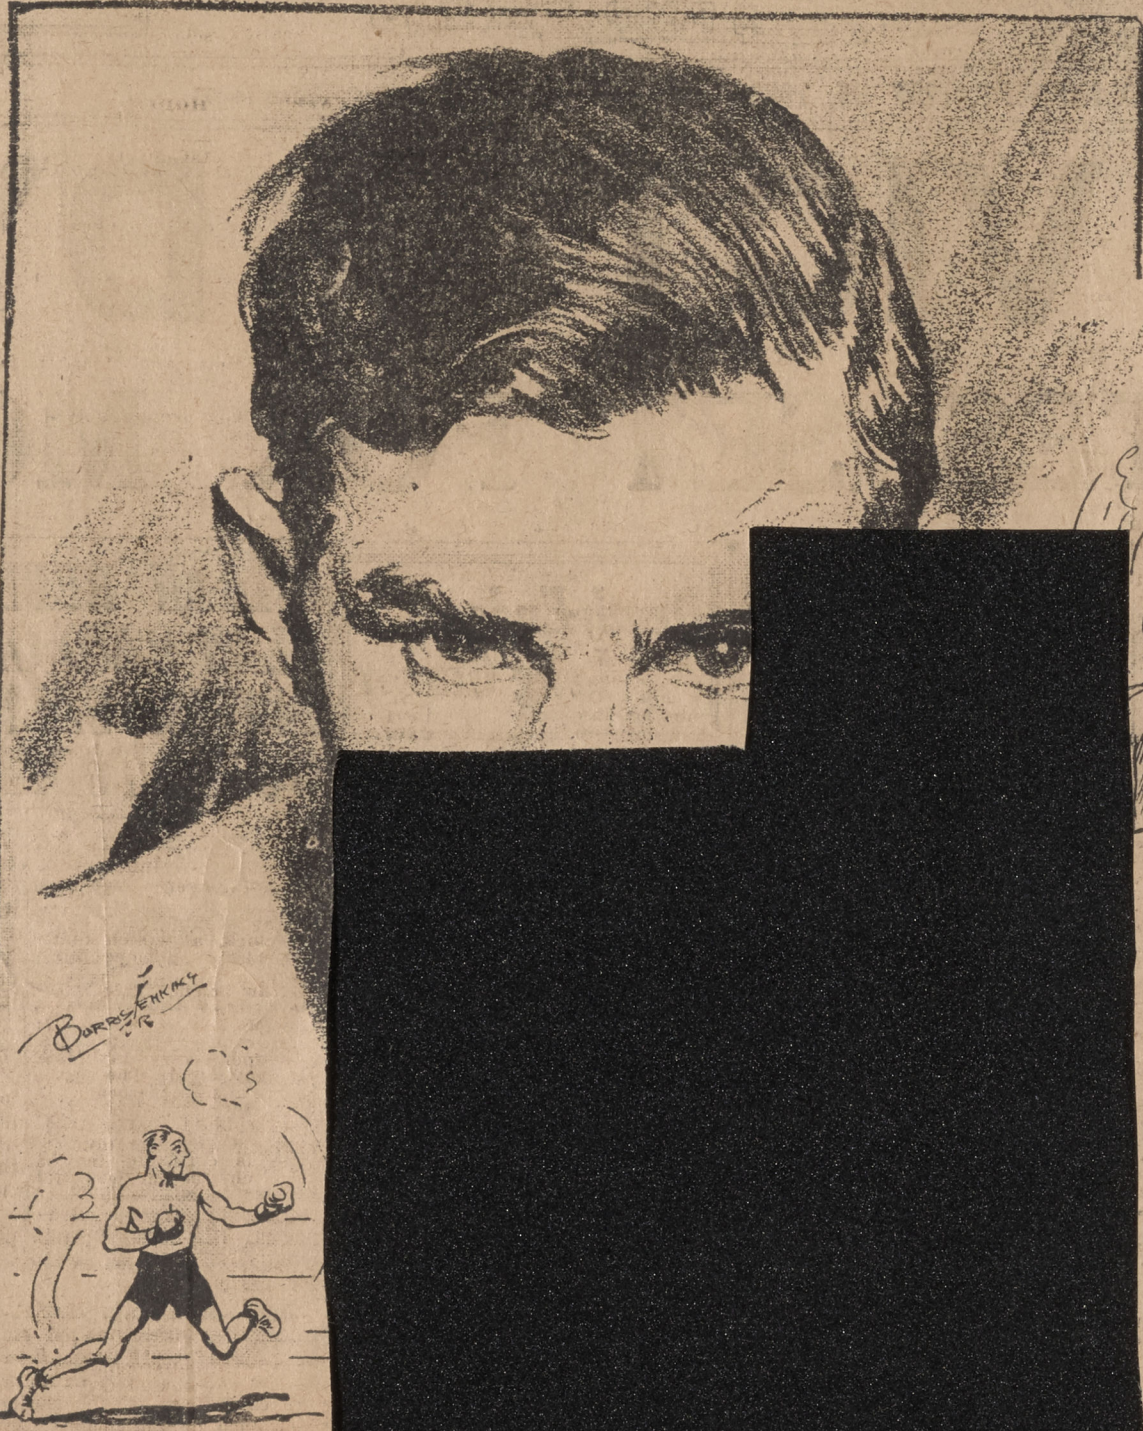

The meet has been officially sanctioned by the American Power Boat association, and will be conducted by the Outboard Motor association of northern California.

Sutton Loses In County Net Matches

Richmond's entrants in the Crockett county tournament were not quite as successful in yesterday's round of the tourney as they were last week-end.

In yesterday's competition, Phil Clark of Orem defeated Darrow Sutton of Richmond 6-4, 6-4, while Verne Valero of Crockett won over Marvin Truitt of Richmond 5-7,

In last week's competition, Richmond's tennis athletes won all seven matches of that round.

RICHMOND BOYS FIRST IN MEET

Howard Dalton and Allen Moore of Richmond captured first places in the state Y. M. C. A. California track meet held in the University of California oval yesterday afternoon.

Dalton crossed the tape to take first honors in the 400 yard run, in the unlimited boys' division, while Allen Moore placed first in the 200 meter dash in men's competition, running the distance in 23 2/5 seconds.

The Richmond Y. M. C. A. trackmen were competing with representatives from more than 20 "Y" organizations from the northern section of California.

Richmond also took three second places, two thirds, and three fourths in yesterday's meet.

Allen Moore earned second places in both the 100 meter dash and the broad jump in the men's division. Moore's distance was 19 feet, 7 inches. Elton Armstrong finished second in the 400 meter dash in the 130 pound division.

Allen Pratt of Richmond placed third in both the broad jump and high jump in the 80 pound division.

Glen Adams gained fourth place in the 50 meters dash for the 80 pound division, while Ivan Utter, also of Richmond, placed fourth in the 50 meter and 100 meter sprints in the 100 pound division. George Dezen, Richmond's entrant in the unlimited boys' shot put, gained fourth place in his event.

Woman Gang Ride Victim Near Death

Sturtevant's revolver?

Gun Found

They ask: Where are Sturtevant's and Mrs. Berri's guns if both opened fire first on Lucich, they were drilled as they sat in his car.

They ask: whose gun, almost identical with the one Lucich says he used, was found with four discharged shells, six miles away, in "Vince" says, he threw his own into Tomales Bay after the killing?

They ask who created the web of running footprints that encircled the car for 50 feet, if only the trio was there, and if the killing followed a short stroll down to the beach?

U. S. Aids

As to Mrs. Berri's testimony, authorities wondered why the death car was loaded with hers and Sturtevant's baggage, if they were only accompanying Lucich on a "sightseeing ride" to see a place where ten men had been "put on the spot."

Federal authorities are working with county police and an endless sitting of ten resurgent testimony of small time bootleggers and racketeers in Marin county, supposedly "in the know" was promised.

Meanwhile, in his basement cell, "Vince," had man, slept the "Madrigal of May."

BODY TAKEN TO ANTIOCH

ANTIOCH, May 24. — Another mystery angle into the inquiry into the slaying of M. G. Sturtevant was added last night, when the body of the Marin county victim was conveyed secretly to Antioch, a bullet removed that had not been recovered by autopsy surgeons, and the remains buried unannounced today.

Dr. J. B. Blackshaw of Antioch, at the request of authorities, removed a bullet from Sturtevant's shoulder and turned it over to the Marin county coroner for comparison with other bullets taken from the slain man's body.

The corpse was kept at the Antioch funeral parlors of H. G. Preston, and was taken to Oakland today where it was buried.

LONDON, May 24.—UP—American amateur golfing stars face the re-objection of their European invasion in the British amateur golf tournament starting over the historic St. Andrews course Monday. The Americans completed their practice rounds today and were scheduled for a day of rest.

Bobby Jones heads the list of 26 Americans in the field of 272 entrants and is the outstanding favorite. Jones, making what may be his last foreign golfing invasion, is especially anxious to win, as the British amateur is the only major championship he never has won.

This year Jones is trying for the British amateur, the British open, the United States amateur and the United States open, and hopes to climax his brilliant career by winning all four. No golfer has won more than two of the major titles in a single year.

Odd Fellows Nines Will Meet Today

Inter-club rivalry will be witnessed at its best this afternoon on the San Pablo diamond when the Oakland Odd Fellows and the Richmond Odd Fellows battle for baseball honors.

The game will start at 2:30 o'clock.

Carl Kamb will attempt to keep the Oakland swatters guessing today, while Bill Gualdoni will assist him behind the plate.

The Richmond Odd Fellows are known as first-class hitters, and the Oakland chucker will doubtless have difficulty in holding down their hitting aspirations. The local lodge baseball aggregation displayed their slugging skill in Friday's Richmond City Twilight league contest in which they conquered the Mechanic Bank outfit by a score of 12 to 0. It is therefore expected that the Oakland athletes will have plenty of work to do this afternoon in the city of San Pablo.

Native Sons To Play Double Header Today

The senior baseball team of the Richmond Native Sons will be kept exceedingly busy at First street today, for they are scheduled to meet both the Native Son Juniors and the Oakland Elks on the First street diamond.

The seniors will tackle the Juniors at 1 o'clock this morning. The Juniors are the holders in the American Legion Junior baseball competition of Richmond and are expected to give their elders plenty of trouble today.

The senior Native Sons' squad will play its second game at 2:30 o'clock against the Oakland Elks, the first round.

Old Tourney

Like Jones, the other American amateurs would rather win the British amateur than any other competition. The tourney dates back to 1886, and only two Americans are listed among holders of the title. Walter Travis, a naturalized Australian won in 1904, and Jess Sweetser scored the first victory by an American born golfer when he won the trophy in 1926.

The tournament is limited to the "sudden death" 18-hole match play competition which always has been a "jinx" to Jones, but even if Jones fails to overcome this handicap, America's chances of winning the tournament are considered bright.

All members of the United States Walker Cup team are entered in the competition, and if Jones is eliminated, the British still face the difficult task of putting out such stars as Don Moe, George Von Elm, Harrison Johnston, George Voligt, Roland Meekenzie, Dr. O. P. Willing and Francis Ouimet.

Moe Favored.

The 20-year old Moe is a strong favorite with the British golfing public. The young Portland, Ore., collegian was the star of the recent Walker cup competition, and is considered one of Jones' most dangerous rivals in the amateur trophy.

Moe's play in setting a course record of 67 at Sandwich to overcome J. A. Stout's 7-hole lead in their Walker cup matches, has stamped him as an outstanding competitor, and he is hailed by British writers as a "second Bobby Jones."

Jones is a great public favorite in England, and the majority of British golfing followers would like to see the "emperor" win the coveted British amateur. If he fails a victory for Moe would be popular.

Moe, Jones and 19 other Americans drew first round byes and will play their initial matches in the second round. Harrison Johnston, United States amateur champion, is the only United States player competing in the first round.

GRACE LUTHERAN CHURCH

Thirteenth and Barrett. E. J. Egan, Sunday school superintendent, Mrs. W. H. Page, choir director, Mrs. C. R. Baldwin, organist.

Bible school meets at 9:45 for a helpful hour of song and lesson study. Jesus describes the future of the Kingdom. Is the lesson subject, "Take ye heed, watch and pray; for ye know not the time when the Son of Man will come." Is the golden text and a most potent verse for our modern day of frenzied activities.

At the 11 o'clock preaching service Rev. E. O. Hoffmeister again brings us one of his vital and spiritual messages, his theme this time being, "The Solitary Battle." At the organ, Mrs. Irene Mythen. Church school at 10:00 a. m. Mrs. J. O. Weston, superintendent. Worship and preaching at 11:00 a. m.

We are happy to report the receipt of a very nice letter from Rev. Guy L. Hudson, and family, Fremont, Nebraska. Rev. Hudson is very busy, winding up the affairs of his college year and preparing for his graduation which takes place on the 29th of this month. The family is looking forward with much pleasure to resuming their work in Richmond, and expect to be here some time in June.

In looking back over the months just past, we feel that we have been most fortunate in having Rev. Hoffmeister as our supply pastor, and we feel like urging all our members and friends to come out to the few remaining services that he will be with us, thus showing our appreciation for all his labors in our behalf.

Our church school convenes at 9:45 every Sunday morning. Its high purpose is to aid in building a better church, to give strength to the nation, and fit for citizenship in the Kingdom of God. A group of young people, together with the pastor and his wife, attended a Bay Union Epworth League rally held at our University church in Berkeley Friday evening. The League will make a report of this meeting at seven o'clock Sunday evening.

HARRY GREEN STARS IN HONEY

Harry Green, veteran vaudeville comedian who has become, in a few months, the leading Jewish character comic on the tall-talking screen, heads the constellation of stellar performers who support Nancy Carroll in "Honey," the spirited musical romance, which comes to the Fox-California theater on Tuesday next.

Green's latest production was "The Kibitzer," in which he played the title role.

With Miss Carroll and Green in "Honey" are Lillian Roth, who played in Maurice Chevalier's "The Love Parade" and in Dennis King's "The Vagabond King," Skeets Gallagher, former Broadway musical comedy singer and dancer, whose most recent film was "Pointed Heels," Stanley Smith, who was Miss Carroll's sweetheart in "Sweetie," ZaSu Pitts, Mitz Green, C. Sellen and Jobyna Howland.

"Honey" is based on the New York stage comedy hit, "Come Out of the Kitchen" by Alice Duer Miller and A. E. Thomas. The screen adaptation was written by Herman J. Mankiewicz, Paramount staff writer, and the music and lyrics were written by W. Franke Harling and Sam Coslow.

Westey Rungles is the director of "Honey." He directed "Street Girl," "Condemned" and numerous other films which scored heavily with the public.

Also on the program is Taylor Holmes in "Let Me Explain."

LIONEL BARRYMORE, Montague Love and Jane Day in a scene from "The Mysterious Island" which is now being shown at the Fox California theater.

ALL-COLOR, ALL SOUND DRAMA HERE

Abounding in rare fantasy and thrilling adventure, "The Mysterious Island," Metro Goldwyn Mayer's million dollar all-color sound and dialogue film which opens today at the Fox-California theater.

Few films the screen has offered may boast the original, the variety and the well balanced entertainment elements that are at once recognizable in this elaborate novelty. And, despite the bigness of its settings, the unusualness of its under-water backgrounds, its fantastic submarine people and their odd dwellings, "The Mysterious Island" more than any other play based on pure imagination, possesses a human appeal and a sense of realism that makes its exotic detours plausible and impressive.

"The Mysterious Island" is not a starring picture and every member of the large cast merits unstinted praise for giving the colorful interpretation of the play a faithful interpretation. Lloyd Hughes as Nikolai is at his best, likewise, Jane Day, who, for a newcomer, shows marked emotional ability, not to mention her grace and beauty.

Lionel Barrymore as Count Daktari.

Memorial Rites At First M. E.

This morning's service at the First Methodist church at the West Side will be in memory of the sons and daughters of all nations who in the cause of freedom and righteousness have given up their lives. The sermon theme will be "Sacred Memories" and the choir will sing "Grant Me Dear Lord Great Peace of Mind."

Esola Funeral Held Yesterday

Under the direction of Curry's Funeral parlors, final respect was paid to the memory of Mrs. Esunto Esola at the St. Mark's church yesterday. Interment followed in the St. Mary's cemetery in Oakland.

Kar adds another sterling performance to his list of screen accomplishments and Montague Love's villainy is beyond criticism.

To Lucien Hubbard, the unseen, guiding genius of this huge venture, the critic must pay his compliments for this modest film creator is not only the director of "The Mysterious Island," but its screen author and scenarioist as well. Hubbard's production problems have undoubtedly surpassed in importance the limitations of other super films, but he may point with pride to this all-color fantasy as a big job exceptionally well done.

Also on the program is a Fox talking News and Harry Langdon in "Skirt Sly."

OIL INDUSTRIES TO LEAD U. S. ACTIVITIES

TULSA, Okla., May 24.—UP.—The oil industry, founded upon conditions of extreme competition may become one of the most cooperative American activities if plans of many of its leaders are adopted.

The cooperative phase of oil production was intensified this week-end at the spring meeting of the American Petroleum Institute's division of production here.

In recent years, under the Institute's auspices, the remedy of production curtailment was applied to unfavorable market conditions, through its effectiveness, production has been held as low as 12 percent of potential.

"We must continue production curtailment and we must curtail drilling operations," E. B. Reeser, president of the Institute and head of the Barnsdall corporation, told the thousand oil leaders attending the divisional meeting and the mid-continent scouts and land men convention.

Reeser and William L. Davis, chairman of the Institute's division of production, led the delegates in discussion of over production and the need for common endeavor to meet that problem.

COLLEGE LOVE AT RICHMOND THEATER

The most popular short subjects ever screened, Universal's "College Love" now hold the record for number and length of time in which they have been shown on the screen.

Starting with the first series three years ago, the popularity has kept increasing with each new series until now the first feature "College Love" is of forced to the public. The new production is now showing at the Richmond theater.

Forty-four short units have been made so far and with the present feature the effervescent group will complete their fourth "year" at college. Never, in the history of the screen, according to film records, have as many pictures been made in a single group with such outstanding success.

Nat Ross directed "College Love" in which the snappy smart comedy of the campus is featured. A complete football game, with close-ups of many of the dramatic plays forms the climax of the picture.

The story was written by Leonard Fields and adapted by John B. Clymer and Pierre Condore. Carl Laemmle, Jr., produced it, with Nat Ross as director.

In the cast are George Lewis and Dorothy Gulliver in the leading roles, Eddie Phillips, Churchill Ross, Hayden Stevenson, Summer Getchell and many others.

RICHMOND RUNS AHEAD!

Richmond runs ahead of its sister cities on the Pacific Coast in industrial growth and general prosperity.

Speaking recently over the radio, P. M. Sanford, president of the Chamber of Commerce, pointed out significant facts which are often overlooked by local residents.

Here are some of the points upon which he stressed:

Richmond now employs 9,000 men with annual payroll of $13,000,000.

Richmond is the home of the Standard Oil, Certain-teed Products Corporation, Pullman Shops, Standard Sanitary Manufacturing Co., the Santa Fe Shops and other national industrial corporations.

Richmond enjoys schools, libraries, playgrounds, churches and recreational advantages which are keeping pace with the city's progress.

Richmond has in sight new industrial workers to the number of 3,000 this year through new industries already established or scheduled to start.

Newer and Finer

THE NEW DESOTO SIX was introduced to the public yesterday for the first time. The car features a newer and larger motor. Top left shows the radiator front; center interior of car; right new windshield and sun visor; center left the new six roadster; right the convertible coupe. At the bottom is the beautiful new sedan. Do you notice where the parking lights are located?

MA FERGUSON WILL RUN FOR RE-ELECTION

AUSTIN, Tex., May 24.—UP—Prohibition enforcement which enforces and prohibition agents who abstain is the platform on which Mrs. Miriam A. (Ma) Ferguson, will seek a second term as governor of Texas.

The candidate who, as the wife of former Governor James A. Ferguson, and as his companion in political struggles, has become the Lone Star state's leading public figure among women, announced today she would campaign on the prohibition issue.

"I am sure the people are becoming sick and disgusted with officers kicking and cuffing everybody around and, in the name of the law, raiding searching and seizing everything and everybody to find bootleg liquor which they themselves are drinking every day and aiding and protecting the unlawful sale of the same," Mrs. Ferguson said.

"We can't convict cow thieves if the officers are eating part of the stolen beef," she declared.

An affidavit swearing to non-use of liquor for six months before administration of the oath of office, and as his companion in sheriff or other enforcement officers would be required by Mrs. Ferguson's program.

The former woman governor announced for that office again Friday after the state supreme court ruled her husband ineligible to run because of his impeachment as governor in 1917. Ferguson had said previously to his rejection that his petition were turned down by the high court he would substitute the other member of the famous Texas political partnership, his wife.

In stepping aside in favor of his wife's candidacy, Ferguson saw his own prohibition declarations revised in her announcement. Ferguson had said he would veto all liquor legislation whatsoever, either pro or anti, if he were elected.

NEW DESOTO SIX MAKES DEBUT, CAR REPORTED LARGER, FINER

A finer De Soto six—with a bigger engine and more power, smarter styling and a body constructed on entirely new principles—is presented by the De Soto Motor corporation, a division of Chrysler Motors.

The models represent the first major change in the original design of this famous car. For twenty two months it enjoyed continuous manufacture without alteration, a noteworthy achievement for the original model of any car and set a new first-year sales record for the industry.

Presented in six models, four-door sedan, convertible coupe, business coupe, de luxe coupe, roadster and phaeton, the finer six is offered in addition to the De Soto straight eight, introduced January 4. It is the result of many months of laboratory and road tests, carried out by the Chrysler Motors engineering staff, under the direction of Fred Zeder, Carl Breer and O. R. Skelton, to develop the basic De Soto idea to new standards of power, smoothness and perfection of line and body.

Low Prices
New low prices for De Soto sixes are announced for these models. They are: roadster $810; business coupe $830; phaeton $830; de luxe coupe, $860; 4-door sedan $875; convertible coupe $945.

Important advancements in the finer six include the larger, more powerful engine, delivering higher speed and snappier performance, and a new system of jointless steel construction that gives a stronger, permanently quiet body with lower center of gravity.

Among other noteworthy features are a heavier counterweighted crankshaft; rubber cushioned engine mountings; hydraulic internal expanding self-equalizing four-wheel brakes; manual starter control operating on steel ring gear on flywheel; chain driven camshaft; mechanically driven fuel pump instead of vacuum tank gasoline feed; a new type larger carburetor, and metric spark plugs, providing better cooling for each plug. Tapered roller bearings are used on the rear axle shaft, drive pinion, differential and front wheels.

Appearance Improved
Various niceties of contour and equipment improve the appearance of the car, all such changes assuming the nature of pure refinement. The inherent character of the car is emphasized, rather than altered. The radiator is a wide-shield interpretation of the original motif, the French-type visor is further modernized to correspond to that on the straight eight, parking lamps are mounted on the front fenders, and various little touches have been made further to accentuate the trim stylishness and the conservative modern note of the car's beauty.

The body is wholly new in structure. Its construction is known as Steelweld, the basic steel sections being welded into a unit by a new process which affords greater safety, silence, strength, unhampered vision, flashing low lines and roominess. Roadability and maneuverability in traffic are greatly increased.

The front end, cow and sides are heavy stampings, which, after the welding, form a continuous solid steel shell. Panels and ribs stamped in the underbody and insulations of felt and rubber combine to give further rigidity and quietness to this construction.

All Metal Doors
All-metal doors are used. They are provided with adjustable rubber buffers, heavy hinges and special latches, to safeguard against rattles.

An important feature of this body is the spaciousness afforded inside without extending outside dimensions. In the sedan, 1 1/2 inches more headroom is provided in the front and one inch in the rear compartment, the total height being 38 1/2 and 37 inches respectively. Other measurements are: Back of front seat to pedals, 34 1/2 inches; back of rear seat to back of front seat, 37 inches.

This roomy interior is made amply comfortable and beautiful by coachwork of custom-built appearance. In closed models the front seat is adjustable. Choice of broadcloth or mohair is offered in the upholstery of closed models, leather being provided for open cars. Wide and deeply cushioned seats, set at a carefully studied angle for comfortable riding, are provided in all models.

New Controls
In the closed models the fittings include are rests, smoking set and vanity case in the rear compartment. The windshield is vertical ventilating.

Convenience and completeness are found in the attractively arranged controls in the driving compartment. Speedometer, ammeter, oil pressure gauge and electric gasoline gauge are grouped in the instrument panel and indirectly lighted. Within easy reach are the carburetor choke and theft lock ignition switch. The steering wheel has three spokes, with finger-thin rim. On top of the steering post are the light control switch, throttle and horn button.

All exterior hardware, including head and fender lamp rims, radiator shell, hub caps, bumpers, tail lights and door handles, is chromium plated, insuring a lustrous, non-tarnishing finish which harmonizes with the wide range of lacquer combinations offered.

New Fenders
Fenders are bonderized a process which is applied before enameling, to prevent rust. Should a bit of enamel be chipped off, the metal will remain dark. Other parts of the car are given parkerizing and sheridizing processes, also to prevent rust.

Gear shift is standard, three speeds forward and one reverse. Easy steering is provided by semi-irreversible worm-and-sector type gear, adjustable for wear.

The hydraulic brake system, so successfully used on Chrysler-built cars, is entirely and permanently self-equalizing and hence is never in need of adjustment. Application of the brake pedal exerts an equal pressure on all four wheels. The brake fluid is conveyed from a master cylinder to pistons in the wheel brake drums by heavy copper tubing and armored rubber hose, both tested to many times the amount of pressure required in normal brake action. Being internal expanding, they are weatherproof. The parking brake operates on a drum at the rear of the transmission.

New Engine
The enlarged engine has a maximum of 60 horsepower, S. A. E. rating is 23.44. The bore is increased to 3 1/8 inches, the stroke remaining at 4 1/8. Displacement is increased to 189.81 cubic inches. Cylinders are cast in bloc, with the crankcase integral. Of the famous high compression type, this engine combines a high degree of power and smoothness with comparatively small size. The compression ratio is 5.2 to 1.

Rubber cushioned engine mountings front and rear, made possible by the recently developed process for bonding rubber to steel, insulates the engine from the frame. These mountings protect the engine from the road shocks and prevent communication of torque sounds from the engine to the rest of the car.

Pistons are of light, strong alloy, having a steel strut to control expansion. Each piston is provided with three rings; two tongue and groove compression and one oil regulating. Skirt clearance is .0015-.002 inch. Exhaust valves are silchrome steel, intake valves of chrome nickel steel.

Heavy Crankshaft
An important contribution to the smooth operation of the finer De Soto six is the heavier, counterweighted crankshaft. This shaft is put in precise static and dynamic balance. The counterweights reduce pressure on the main bearings, providing added endurance and smoothness. The crankshaft weighs 61 pounds, is of drop-forged special steel and has four main bearings, each 2 1/4 inches in diameter.

The four-bearings camshaft is of increased size, with front bearing removable. Cams and distributor gear are forged integrally. The shaft is driven by a silent chain, one of the noteworthy features of this car in view of its low price.

Lubrication is full force-feed by gear-driven oil pump. The oil passages are drilled rather than being bored, to all crankshaft, connecting rod and camshaft bearings, to eliminate the danger of core-sand getting into the oil lines.

New Carburetor
Other features of the power plant are a plain tube carburetor with idle adjustment and acceleration pump, a wire-mesh air cleaner, gasoline filter and crankcase ventilator and automatic thermostat control in the cooling system.

Transmission is of the selective, sliding-gear type, carefully balanced and synchronized for smooth performance with the entire power line. Ball bearings support the rear of the main shaft. The clutch is single dry plate, with moulded asbestos lining, six coil-type springs and ball-thrust release bearing.

The front axle is I-beam construction, with drop forged chrome nickel alloy steel steering knuckles and arms and ball thrust bearing. Tie-rod and drag-link joints are ball and socket, with drag link joints spring cushioned. Rear axle is semi-floating, with spiral bevel drive gears. Gear ratio is 4.7 to 1. The frame is 5 inches deep with 1 3/4 inch flanges, has four cross members, exclusive of rear engine support, producing a sturdy, rigid chassis.

Wood wheels are standard, diameter 19 inches, with balloon tires, 19 by 5 inches.

A. R. Weisgerber is the local De Soto dealer.

By Rippling Waters

A PARTY enjoys a fishing trip high in the hills and far from the madding crowd. A Chevrolet Six was used by the group.

CHEVROLET SIX USED ON FISH TRIP

It's fishin' time—get out the rod and reel and see that they are in shape.

Pleasant water this year will bring good fishing in all the streams.

Millions of trout and other fish have been planted in the streams of the west in the last few years, by government and state, which insures good fishing for many years to come. The authorities are doing their part to increase fishing throughout the country. Fishermen must do their part and not take fish that are undersized. If these undersized fish are allowed to grow they will be big enough to make a mess in a few years and all fishermen gain just that much.

Automobiles and good roads have made good fishing streams harder and harder to find, according to Connell and Shumate, local Chevrolet dealers. Streams that once teemed with fish are now practically barren, in spite of the efforts of state and government officials to plant them. This of course is due to the fact that fish are taken before they are full grown.

Efforts are being made to eliminate this lack of fish in many of the streams by planting larger fish, some two and three years old. Planting of tiny fish has proved inadvisable because few of them ever reach maturity. The small fish are prey of their own kind and of every other fish in that particular stream. There is no more fun on earth than fishing, members of the firm said.

"The out-of-doors feature alone is worth the effort, then if the effort is rewarded with a fine mess of trout or other fish there is nothing that so satisfies the soul of the angler. There's a thrill in hooking a big one and playing him until he is captured.

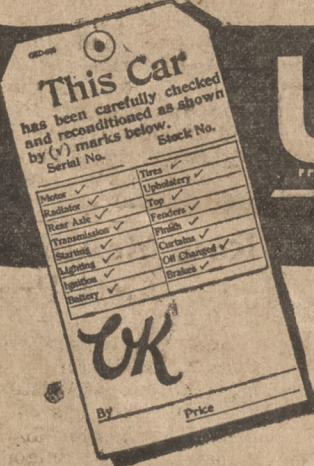

"We in the west have a great advantage. Mountain streams are only a few hours away, and those who care to walk from the main traveled roads can always come back with the limit."

School nurse says

all girls should know this

When you are a girl, you should know this: "You are not a nigger."
Thabou ain't got much to do,
he chuckled.

Still she remained silent. She was not yet aware of the maid's absence, hence she had no fear of the black intruder. Since that day on the trail when Shen had assured her that Malunghu had no fears for him, Dawn had been apprehensive of Shen's plans, but she had not suspected he would invade the temple.

"I am not prepared to have you here," she said coldly, presuming on her rights as Thabou.

"You are ready," returned Shen indifferently, "cause when I see with somebody den day's always ready."

His boldness frightened her. She peered about for the maid, whose duty it was to usher suplicants into the presence of the goddess.

"You won't find de maid," he advised her, "cause she's down at de caneen wit' de white folks—wit' your kind o' folks." He laughed roughly.

Dawn attempted, with scant success, to put authority into her tone.
"Then you must go," she commanded. "Thabou cannot invite a man to the Temple of Malunghu
when she is alone."

The white man's raucous greeting words, "So de old god Malunghu ain't goin' to have no other niggers in de house, huh?" he commented sarcastically. "Den why don't he show up and protect his bride. If ain't much of a husband for you, de white voodoo Tom Allen is a better man den your wooden man."

"You are blaspheming the Temple of Malunghu," Dawn told him heatedly, resentful of his decision of the natives' creed.

"Is dat so?" he rejoined. "What
is dat so?"

"Is dat so?" he rejoined. "What
is dat so?"

"Is dat so?" he rejoined. "What
is dat so?"

"Is dat so?" he rejoined. "What

SYNOPSIS
Though fair-skinned, Dawn, mistress of the African tribe in British East Africa Protectorate, is believed white, and is consecrated as the mystic bride of the black god Malunghu. Tom Allen, her sweetheart, who has learned her secret, is ordered to England, as a result of a false story concocted about him by Shen, who man and bully of the blacks. Shen has been severely wounded in a hand-to-hand tussle with Tom.
She apprizes Dawn of the secret of her white birth, and threatens to have her burned, by informing the natives that she is not black, landed in England. Tom promptly recruits for colonial service. The British Protectorate has been seized by the Germans.

INSTALLMENT TWENTY-TWO
The Maid did not intend to give him too much peace of mind. "Some time today," she said idly. "I go.
Maybe I meet a man on the trail.
Dawn do not care much if I come or go in the temple."

She made no answer. He fingered his soiled stripes which proclaimed him sergeant as if to warn the Maid that he was not above imposing his military authority upon her. The Maid started tentatively down the trail.

"Maybe after little while you won't be German officer," she said cryptically. With a slight laugh she continued on her way.

Her confident manner, which amounted to downright insolence, faintly disturbed Shen. So far as he knew he still possessed his customary power. His vigil at the temple had kept him more or less out of communication with events at the station, and he reflected that the Maid might know of impending events likely to damage him.

She had not been at the canteen herself for several days, he knew, but it was possible that Pigeon and other random lovers had told her tales which she might use to torture him. He cursed her softly as a dangerous woman, and turned toward the temple.

ANTIOCH AIDS SPARKS FIRE IN BARRIER FIGHT OIL PIPE LINE

Aggressive activity in behalf of the salt water barrier is promised at Antioch where a unit of the salt water barrier association was recently formed. More than a score of local men and business firms took memberships at the organization meeting, and new ones are continually being signed up, according to announcement by L. W. Mehahey, who was chosen secretary.

Mayor James D. Donlon was made president, and said further meetings of the unit will be held to enlist interest in the barrier in the vicinity of Antioch.

Antioch is at the confluence of the Sacramento and San Joaquin rivers and was one of the worst sufferers from the intrusion of salt water until a municipal water project was carried out which gave relief for the present.

For years Antioch residents, whose supply came from Suisun bay, were served with water which was practically unfit for domestic use for many months of every year.

Purchasing of bottled water for drinking purposes, and replacement of plumbing fixtures and boilers damaged by salt, carried the cost of water beyond reason. Several years ago a municipal reservoir and pumping plant were installed. Pumps are now operated during the flood season to provide a fresh water supply. Should there be a long period of low water in the river with a consequent reduction in the length of the pumping season, this supply would be jeopardized.

Construction of the barrier at any of the suggested sites in or near Carquinez straits would place Antioch on a permanent fresh water lake and insure its fresh water supply for all time, according to local residents.

Mayor Donlon said Antioch is solidly behind the barrier, realizing from experience the importance of fresh water to a community.

Several times the railroad station caught fire but the volunteers swarmed over the roof each time and quenched the tongues of flame as they caught the wooden shingles.

Then the knitting mill warehouse filled with inflammable materials was fired and all attention was turned to removing its contents. Wagons, trucks, automobiles and even the children's coaster wagons were used to cart the contents out of the fire zone. About $30,000 worth of yarn was saved from the first floor before the flames became so hot the firemen could no longer face them.

Lumber Burned
The creeping lines of fire then advanced on the large Ripon Lumber company, where thousands of feet of dry lumber was stored. Part of the volunteers deserted the burning warehouse and fought the flames around the yard. Finally, as the fire licked at the edges of the lumber yard, they brought it under control.

By 12:30 p. m. three hours after the unusual accident that started it, the fire was out but great clouds of dense black smoke still ascended from the ruins which ringed the seven tanks, their tops blown away and their sides split wide open.

flaming oil and gasoline over the fire fighters. Five or more were injured, one of them seriously.

The horse which will go down in history of the fire as the cause of the "big fire" was hitched to a load of lumber at the Acme Handle company, next to the oil firm, about 9:30 a. m. when it became frightened and ran away. In its dash, the horse dragged the wagon over the pipe line, which gave way and released gasoline.

Sparks from the shoes of the running horse set fire to the fluid and the fire was on.

Within three hours the flames destroyed the oil company, the Handle company, the Ripon Knitting company warehouse, two homes, a box car of merchandise and damaged the railroad station in quick order.

The explosion broke all windows in a radius of two blocks of the tanks, whose covers went skyward in rapid order as the fire touched them off.

At the height of the fire, flames shot so high they could be seen in Fox lake, 30 miles away.

Homes Burned
The first of the five explosions in the first hour showered burning oil on the homes of P. William and Dan Heise. They were destroyed in a few minutes and William Harris, a volunteer fire fighter, was seriously injured. Five others were hurt slightly by the first explosion.

By that time the townspeople, who had rushed from their work and homes were joined by the women folk from the kitchens. They quit trying to save buildings already afire and concentrated their efforts on structures not yet affected.

Several times the railroad station caught fire but the volunteers swarmed over the roof each time and quenched the tongues of flame as they caught the wooden shingles.

Then the knitting mill warehouse filled with inflammable materials was fired and all attention was turned to removing its contents. Michigan Wins Big 10 Meet

EVANSTON, Ill., May 24.—UP—Lithe Lee Setzman, of the University of Illinois, carried off individual honors, while Michigan was winning the thirtieth annual Big Ten track and field meet today. Sentman dazzled 3000 spectators by winning both hurdle races for a total of 10 points and then went into the broad jump for fourth place and 2 points more which put him ahead of George Simpson, the Ohio sprinter, who, although he won both dashes, was somewhat of a disappointment.

To accomplish his feat Sentman beat such men as Dick Rockaway, Ohio State, holder of the unofficial 220 yard low hurdle record of .228; Hatfield, Indiana; Saling, Iowa; Rodgers and Cave both of Illinois. He might have made better time if pushed harder.

MISSING GIRL, CAR OBJECT OF SEARCH

"When we got back to where I left the machine, it and my wife were gone."
"For God's sake, help me find her."

No Clues

This was Kirk's brief story and it was all police had to work on. They could find no clues at the scene of the breakdown, and no reports have been turned in to local or state police of anyone seeing a car with a Washington State license.

"I doubt very much whether the machine could have moved under its own power," Kirk said.

"A kidnaper under these conditions would have been considerable feat," state police said. "A kidnaper or kidnapers would have to overpower the woman, make a tow line fast and drive away with an automobile which was conspicuous because of Washington state license plates, while every officer in the district was on the alert for such an auto."

Marathon Dance Managers Sued

MARTINEZ, May 24.—Suit for $12,500 damages against John Rice, Mrs. Ivy Rice and Rupert Blue, operators of a marathon dance, was filed here today by Mrs. Yvonne Hardin and her husband Freeman Hardin, of Oakland. Mrs. Hardin claims she was injured and unable to continue dancing when she fell on the dance floor while leaving for an intermission with her partner Anthony Brown.

Kirk told police he was driving from Philadelphia to Pittsburgh, when his automobile broke down, and from Pittsburgh they intended visiting Niagara Falls before returning to Seattle, where they were married on April 16.

Wolfe, the undertaker, who offered to aid Kirk, said the young man had sent a telegram by telephone from his home to G. C. Kirk, president of the Carnation Farm Co., Carnation, Wash., saying his machine had been disabled and asking $500 for repairs.

"The wire was never answered," Wolfe said, "and I have not seen Kirk since. He left no forwarding address, and has not called to see if the wire was answered. He said nothing in his wire about his wife being missing."

Meanwhile, it was learned from Seattle that no G. C. Kirk was listed in any directories there.

INDIAN REBELS PLAN RAID ON BRITISH SALT PLANT

der the leadership of Mouvli Mahomed Sadiq, and passed a resolution urging Moslems to participate in the independence movement. They appealed to Moslems of Karachi and the Sind region—who have often clashed with the Hindus in communal fighting—to follow out a program for propaganda against British rule, for picketing of liquor shops and for a boycott of foreign goods, particularly foreign cloth.

The Dharasana days observance here was featured by the appearance of volunteers in the Dharasana salt raids. They were in ambulances at the head of the procession of shouting natives.

The procession was held to "congratulate" the casualties in the salt raids and the demonstrators marched through the principal streets of the native quarter to the Esplanade Maidan, where they held a meeting and heard fiery speakers denounce the British.

Wounded Cheered
The injured volunteers—some with their eyes closed as they lay stretched in ambulances and others with garlands of flowers on their handbags—were cheered by crowds that jammed the streets and the square where the meeting was held. Leaders of the parade carried nationalist flags and representatives of the Sikhs carried their native triangular flag of yellow. There was one Turkish nationalist flag.

All factions have been urged to unite in the Wadala raids tomorrow and arrangements were made for a temporary hospital at the home of a Hindu diamond merchant near the depot. Medical equipment was installed and Dr. Sathe was in charge.

The Wadala works has been the objective since police evacuated volunteers from Dharasana. Only a few volunteers remained at Dharasana today, and the district magistrate asked them to leave.

"We will not leave as long as we are alive," was the reply of Ambalal Patel, who was left in charge of the group. Two companies of Sikh troops, totaling 300 men were still on duty in the district.
